Editorial:

The cough according to Dr. Samuel Johnson's dictionary is a "convulsion of the lungs." That pretty much sums it up unless one pursues a more detailed definition, which include causes, treatments, and outcomes of the persistent cough in wickapedia. Putting all that aside, we ask the reader to look closely at the following Poster Stamp featuring the cough,

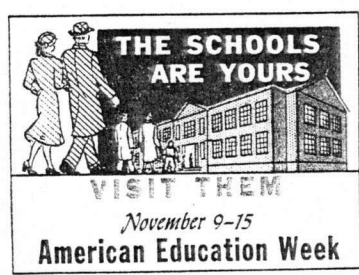

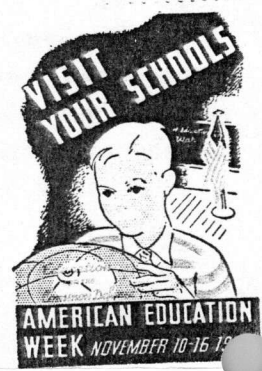

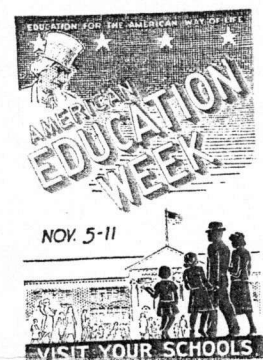

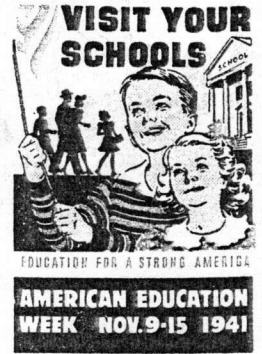

Note the skeleton strangling the victim of the cough. This image clearly illustrates the fact that death can kill you. We digress to transliterate: Don't cough, and don't sneeze (snort or blow your nose) in your neighbors face (unless he is a nasty neighbor). Incidentally this vignette was printed by order of the German Imperial Tuberculosis Commission. We thank our nephew, Jim Stillman, for his help in clarifying the Germanic aspects of this most interesting vignette. It was designed by R. Rother who conceived and designed the whole thing.

A NEW POSTER STAMP CATALOG IS AVAILABLE

Peter Lehmann writes that die Reklamark is a new book by Profesor Guenter Schweiger that is based on his collection of 18,000 Poster Stamps. The book shows some 800 to 1000 (?) Poster Stamps in color on 220 pages. Good backround material is offered (in German) on the artists, the economy and the culture from 1900 to 1914. This volume can be favorably compared to Lick 'Em, Stick 'Em as an introduction to our hobby.

In Support Of Our President

We hope high on the president's agenda is education. More excellent teachers and smaller class size should do the trick. We have another suggestion that is presented in the following series of Poster Stamps. Parents should know what is going on, care what is going on, and be apart of the educational process. Here endeth the lesson.

GOLF ANYONE?

The Erdal (Shoe Crème) set can be found in most collections. It is not rare or even scarce. Even so, we find that it is a very attractive set to ogle. We were amazed to note, however, that the most popular vignette in the set are the two ladies playing golf. The question we ask is: Are they attempting to hit the same ball at the same time? Check it out.

POSTER STAMP LITERATURE

We suspect that we have obtained this unsigned list from Charles Kiddle in which case we thank him. If not him, then we thank whoever made this list.

POSTER STAMP CATALOGUES AND HANDBOOKS

The following is a list of catalogues, handbooks, etc about poster stamps. The list is unlikely to be complete and many other titles could be added and there will be others yet unknown. (Please write if you know of additional titles.) Many other books have some reference to poster stamps where the major subject matter is a different topic. Most of the catalogues, etc are out of print. Christmas, Easter, charity, TB, etc. seals are not poster stamps and, therefore, are outside the scope of this list.

THE "REALLY GOOD STUFF" AUCTION

This is a continuation of the artist's auction and will also feature other "goodies". Some of these items are very rare as our distinguished and knowledgeable bidders may already know. Thus, the cat is out of the bag. Bargains gotten as a result of an unsophisticated lucky guess maybe a thing of the past. The golden age of bargains may be over. Still one may get lucky because no one knows it all.

The rules are the same. First response breaks ties and all lots will be sold for one step above the second highest bid. There is a ten day return privilege and the auction ends on the last day of the month.
